(1) GCC/PPC
> PCC / Special Provisions Part B may describe special Tests required (QAS) against the GIIP/general recognized technical regulation > state-of-art to adapt the Spec > not to hide in the GIPP-Specifications to mislead the Contractor = passed; contrary = failed		P	F
(2) Scope of Works (indicated in Drawings and Description
Nature and Extent of Works to identify the application/demand and scale of Testing events (in conjunction with MoM-book + BoQ/pre-estimate) = passed, contrary = failed				P	F
(3) Specification / Quality Assurance System, Input-Inspection+Testing, Execution(Contractor), Output-
> Tests described in full extend, clearly and complete to understand: e.g. 3 tests on 1000m2/m3						P
> Test extent NOT described > Contractor is not able to assess the Quantity / financial impact in his Bid at Base Date = only speculative rate, gambling. If different standards are referred like Russian GOST, EC, BS, AASHTO, which test shall be picked up and priced in the UR?							F
(4) Method of Measurement and Payment - Book simultaneously with BoQ
> specific "Standard" has been selected+quantified > hence the expenses can be computed								P
> general described only, not QUANTIFIED and just taken reference to a bunch of Standards									F
(5) BoQ: Usual minor testings are included in Unit Rates / Method of Measurement BOOK. If BoQ items are defined, hence the tests volumn can be quantified (T,D,A,V,&W)		N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A
(6) Requirred additional Tests by the Engineer - without failure of compliant-required tests and missing description - i.c.w. the a.m. scenario - .										N/A	F

Note: If the extent of works and services of the Tender Dossier is not fully/complete prescribed and leaves open ambiguous understanding, these inconsistency in the Procurement docs will fall in the sphere of responsibility of Employer / Design Consultant (pro preferentum principle) undoubtedly.
